A NATION DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF CANNOT STAND

Father in heaven, to you we give praise, honor, and glory. Thanks for all the wonderful blessings you have given us and your truth and the understanding of your plan of salvation. We pray that you will guard, guide, direct us and bless this Bible study to your glory and honor. Help us all to grow in grace knowledge of our Lord and Savior, Yeshua the Messiah. Keep our mind stayed on you so that we will remain faithful to you, pray without ceasing and persevere to the end. We desire to serve you in humbleness of mind and meekness of spirit with all of our being and strength. Thank you for the opportunity to worship freely together and to be called in this age. We ask these things in the name of your son Jesus Christ. Amen!

God has called us to get back to the faith once delivered. Hosea 7:11—"Ephraim (his people) is like a silly dove, without sense. They call to Egypt, they go to Assyria." Our leaders have been deceived and led astray. They are lacking in wisdom, knowledge and understanding.

PORTERVILLE, Calif. (AP) — As the California drought approaches its fourth year hundreds of rural San Joaquin Valley residents no longer can get drinking water from their home faucets because California's extreme drought has dried up their individual wells, government officials and community groups said. Many people in the unincorporated community about 52 miles north of Bakersfield also have been relying on a county-supplied 5,000-gallon water tank filled with non-potable water for bathing and flushing toilets. The situation has become so dire that the Tulare County Office of Emergency Services had 12-gallon-per person rations of bottled water delivered on Friday in East Porterville, where at least 182 of the 1,400 households have reported having no or not enough water, according to the Porterville Recorder. Officials said the problem is partly due to the shallowness of some residential wells in East Porterville that are replenished by groundwater from the Tule River. But river flows are way down due to the ongoing drought, leaving some wells dry.

San Diego took a bold step toward greater water independence Tuesday when the City Council unanimously approved long-term plans to recycle sewage into drinking water by using advanced scientific techniques. The water recycling allows San Diego to buy less imported water, which currently makes up 85 percent of its total water supply. The project, dubbed Pure Water San Diego, is expected to provide more than a third of the city's potable water by 2035. Concerns about a public backlash against drinking purified wastewater have prompted the city to spend $1 million on an education and outreach campaign.

"India's Health Ministry said Tuesday, an Indian national returning from Liberia is a treated and cured case of Ebola virus disease but has been quarantined at a special facility at Delhi airport after traces of the virus were found in his semen. There have been no Ebola cases reported in India the second most populous nation in the world or throughout Asia, but there are fears that an outbreak could spread quickly in a region where billions live in poverty and public health systems are often very weak.

International Business Times (11/20/14) Adm. Michael Rogers, the head of the NSA and the top U.S. cyber-security official, warned Thursday that China and other unnamed countries could mount cyberattacks against the U.S. that could shut down the entire U.S. Electric power grid and key infrastructure systems (power, water, aviation). Rogers' testimony before a congressional panel is the first time that the nation's top cyber-security official has confirmed the possibility of such serious attacks taking place. China has been implicated in a large number of hacking attacks against U.S government departments and private companies. Forbes (11/28/14)—“Then, there are the criminal elements, who have been hacking into the credit card details of JP Morgan Chase (76 million customers’ names), and retailers like Home Depot, Target and EBay.”

Fox News (AP) 11/20/14—“North Korea threatened Thursday to bolster its war capability and conduct a fourth nuclear test to cope with what it calls U.S. hostility that led to the approval of a landmark U.N. resolution on its human rights violations.”

UPI.com (11.29.14)—“Russian ruble has fallen 40 percent since January against the U.S. dollar, with the fall in demand for oil and last week's decision by OPEC to maintain current levels of oil production as major contributing factors. Economic sanctions against Russia by the United States and the European Union also play a part in the problems of the Russian economy, which is verging on recession.”

CNS news.com (11/14/19) “Raising Children in a Godless Age” Decision Magazine — “World renowned evangelist Rev. Billy Graham, the founder and chairman of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, said that our children are growing up in a “lawless and wicked age,” infused with the “philosophy of the Devil,” who says, “Do as you please.” Further, rearing children in this culture is difficult because “we have taken God out of our educational systems and thought we could get away with it,” said Rev. Graham. “We have sown the wind, and we are now reaping the whirlwind. We have laughed at God, religion and the Bible. Many of our educational leaders sneer at the old-fashioned idea of God and a moral code. Movies feature sex, sin, crime and alcohol. Teenagers see these things portrayed alluringly on the screen and decide to go and try them. Newspapers have played up crime and sex until they seem glamorous to our young people.”

One of the fundamental problems, according to Graham, is the failure of parents to fight “the Devil in the home” through discipline and, as a result, “children are allowed to go wild.” Parents must spend time with their children, set a good example for them, discipline them, and teach them to “know God,” said the pastor, who has five children and 19 grandchildren. “If you fail to discipline your children, you are breaking the laws, commandments and statutes of God,” said Graham. “You are guilty not only of injuring the moral, spiritual and physical lives of your children, but of sinning against God. The Bible says that if you fail to discipline your children, you actually hate them.”

The best way to influence your children, he added, is to set a good example because “the majority of children acquire the characteristics and habits of their parents.” One of the fundamental problems, according to Graham, is the failure of parents to fight “the Devil in the home” through discipline and, as a result, “children are allowed to go wild.” As for teaching your children to know God, Graham said, “Very seldom do parents have trouble with children when the Bible is read regularly in the home, grace is said at the table and family prayers take place daily. Most trouble with teenagers comes from children reared in homes where prayer is neglected, the Bible is never opened and church attendance is spasmodic. Christ gives the moral stability, understanding, wisdom and patience needed to rear children. There is only one solution to combating the problems afflicting young people, concluded Dr. Graham, and that answer is Christ: “Christ in the home, in the lives of the parents, is the only permanent solution to the menacing teenage social problems in America.”

God has given Billy Graham a long effective life and given a real witness to this age. He may not preach all the details that God has revealed to others, but God has given him the basic point of the law to point people in the right direction that Christ is the Savior and that there is no salvation through any other name than Jesus Christ. We should give credit where credit is due. God’s church is a spiritual organization, not a physical corporation. Romans 8:1—“There is therefore now no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus, who do not walk according to the flesh, but according to the Spirit.” Whosoever has the Spirit of Christ, belongs to Christ and is begotten of God. Those who do not have the Spirit of Christ are none of His.

Rather than judging other preachers and ministers, I appreciate men who lead moral spiritual lives and do not pervert the gospel by immoral behavior, who are not hypocrites but outstanding moral men like Billy Graham who set a good example. I thank God for the witness. I attended one of his crusades for Christ in California as well as watching in a film in Formosa (now called Taiwan) about repentance and the second coming of Christ around 1955-1956. It was a powerful message that heightened my interest even more in studying the Bible and learning what a Christian really is. Graham’s preaching actually helped lead to my conversion as a teenager. It may seem like blasphemy to some people that I credit him; however, I think it is important to thank people for the good they have done. God is the judge of all men and he is the one who knows what he has called each individual to do and knows the knowledge that he gives them. Salvation is not a technical matter, or a matter of claiming understanding of prophecy.

1 Corinthians 13:8—“Love never fails. But whether there are prophecies, they will fail; whether there are tongues, they will cease; whether there is knowledge, it will vanish away.” Paul and Timothy were bond servants of Jesus Christ (Philippians 1:1). Verses 15-21—<sup>5</sup> Some indeed preach Christ even from envy and strife, and some also from goodwill.<sup>16</sup> The former preach Christ from selfish ambition, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my chains;<sup>17</sup> but the latter out of love, knowing that I am appointed for the defense of the gospel.<sup>18</sup> What then? Only that in every way, whether in pretense or in truth, Christ is preached; and in this I rejoice, yes, and will rejoice.<sup>19</sup> For I know that this will turn out for my deliverance through your prayer and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,<sup>20</sup> according to my earnest expectation and hope that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ will be magnified in my body, whether by life or by death. <sup>21</sup> For to me, to live is Christ, and to die is gain.”

Unless we really give our life to Christ and begin to learn and strive to live by God’s every word and the commandments of God, repentance will be tenuous (half-hearted) and lacking in real meaning. A lot of people are sincere, but do not seem to grow forward (past first base, so to speak). To really serve God, a person must really humble himself and study the word of God and learn and understand what God desires. I tell you, it is personal! Salvation is between you and Christ and the word of God, not some church authority. Philippians 2:12—“Each person is responsible to study and work out their own salvation with fear and trembling. 2 Timothy 2:15 (KJV) –“Study to show yourself approved unto God; a workman that needs not to be ashamed rightly dividing the word of truth.” (NKJV) —“Be diligent to present yourself before God, a worker who does not need to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.”

MoneyMorning.com 10.12.14—“James Rickards, an American lawyer, economist, and investment banker weighs in on the impact of low oil prices on currencies. He is a regular commentator on finance, and author of the New York Times bestsellers: Currency Wars and The Death of Money: The coming Collapse of the International Monetary System. Recently, all 16 branches of our Intelligence Community have come together to release a shocking report. Saudi Arabia is selling more and more oil to China. Russia is not a member of OPEC, but they are the world's largest oil exporter, one of the world's largest energy exporters, actually bigger than Saudi Arabia. China is the fastest growing economy in the world, they need energy. So this is a natural partnership between the two and Russia and China recently signed a $400 billion energy alliance. China is buying and building up their gold reserve as a hedge against the collapse of the dollar. China is actually putting these yuan bilateral trade agreements in place all over the world one by one. Once there's enough trade and enough volume in a certain currency, it can become a reserve currency. But the dollar is already being replaced as a reserve currency.”

News.com (60 Minutes CBS)—“China is building huge new cities at an estimated rate of up to 12 to 24 a year, but while they are full of brand new homes and facilities, nobody can afford to live there. A recent CBS 60 Minutes report in the US exposed dozens of new cities in China sitting empty - with the apartments snapped up as investments by the nation's wealthy middle class, then sitting empty as the owners fail to find tenants who can meet the rent. Financial experts fear the ghost town explosion will lead to a housing bubble burst, following China's real estate boom which came after the government changed its policy 15 years ago and allowed people to buy their homes. The middle class saw real estate as a solid investment, more stable than the share market and offering better returns than the banks. Hong Kong-based financial analyst Gillem Tulloch said while the initial boom provided good returns, he fears the bubble is about to burst.” The construction jobs kept people employed, but the financing is going to run out. What then? That’s when war begins and the government sends the army out to to keep them busy conquering other nations and stealing their assets.

The intelligence community fears that China's shadow banking-fueled construction boom (fundamentally a ponzi scheme) is going to implode. The dollar is declining sharply, as a percentage of total global currency reserves. The International Money Fund (IMF) released a report this year called “The Dollar Reigns Supreme by Default”. Here is a direct quote: “The aggressive use of unconventional monetary policies by the Federal Reserve, the U.S. Central bank, has increased the supply of dollars and created rifts in the financial system. The dollar status should be in peril.” If a central bank has to re-reliquify the world, where is that money going to come from? It can’t come from the Fed, they’re leveraged 77-to-1 and secretly insolvent. “The IMF has 3-1 leverage and the only clean balance sheet in the world. The only source of liquidity in the world is going to be the IMF who can print something called the Special Drawing Right (SDR) as a new reserve currency. Who runs the IMF? Who’s really in charge? Kings, dictators, communists –unelected and unaccountable. The 5 Catalysts that will trigger an economic collapse: 1) Foreign ownership of government debt, 2) the fall of the petrodollar, 3) Global gold rebalancing, 4) collapse of China, and 5) The IMF’s plan to replace the dollar. There are crystal clear warning signs that will appear in our economy and in our market. The next flashpoint will be the IMF taking over the world monetary system, becoming the essential bank of the world, printing world money.”

I just finished reading the book, Killing Patton by Bill O’Reilly and Martin Dugard. It is a good book on the politics behind the dramatic final months of WW II in Europe involving Russia’s Stalin, England’s Churchill, Roosevelt of America and subordinates — “Generals Dwight Eisenhower, Omar Bradley, and George Patton. It covers General George S. Patton Jr.’s invaluable contributions to the Allied victory before his mysterious death in a car collision in December 1945, days before he was to return to the United States. At the time of his death, Patton had become known around the world as both an exalted commander with a hard-charging personality and a controversial hero relieved of his duties by General Dwight Eisenhower in part because of his brusque manner and outspoken nature. For almost seventy years there has been a suspicion that his death was not an accident—and it may have been an act of assassination. There were many powerful people who wanted him dead and the facts surrounding Patton’s death are disturbing to say the least.

The cold war is heating up again between America and Russia. Russia has invaded the Ukraine and is taking most of it over. Russia and China are launching an attack on the American dollar. America is busily “solving the problems of the world by building bridges to nowhere. Elsewhere around the world, nations have thrown everything against the wall to see what sticks in their attempt to solve the world economic crisis. Despite all their efforts, global growth remains anemic. Japanese gross domestic product is plunging, China’s real estate market is deflating rapidly, Europe is on the verge of a triple dip recession, and here in the U.S. the divergence between the very wealthy (the one per centers) and how they are doing compared to everybody else, has never been greater.

Bloomberg says the problem is that inflation has now approached recessionary lows by some measures. Government and central banks are almost out of ammunition. Gasoline price per gallon has gone way down to $3 and below. In Omak and Wenatchee, regular gas is $2.89. The bottom line regarding the volatility being seen in the market doesn't just stem from Ebola headlines. It is not just because of ISIS terror attacks in the Middle East, or saber rattling by President Vladimir Putin in Russia. The volatility we are seeing now, is because there is nobody manning the controls anymore. Government officials and central bankers have tried everything and nothing has worked.

World Net Daily (11.14.14). Woman interrupts Muslim service at national Cathedral, Washington, D.C. Washington National Cathedral isn't just any church. It earned the title "America's House of Prayer" for its hosting of presidential funerals and inauguration-related prayer services. Famous people are buried there, including President Woodrow Wilson, Helen Keller and Admiral George Dewey, and it is perhaps the most recognizable Christian sanctuary in the nation with its soaring Gothic architecture and grand entrance hall. The Episcopal cathedral becomes the first church in America to host a Muslim-led prayer service. American Muslims were invited to come and lead their own prayer services to Allah inside the nation's most iconic Christian Church. The cathedral has hosted Muslims at interfaith services in the past, But this is the first time the cathedral has invited Muslims to come and lead their own prayers. The event was planned by Gina Campbell, the cathedral's director of liturgy, and South African Ambassador to the United States Ebrahim Rasool, who is a Muslim. Attendance was by invitation only, and the invite list came from the South African ambassador, who helped plan the event. The National Cathedral was turned into a virtual mosque in which Muslims bowed toward Mecca and shielded their eyes from the Christian cross. Prayer carpets were arranged diagonally, to the side of the sanctuary, so worshipers could face in the direction of Mecca without seeing crosses or other Christian symbols. Muslims are not supposed to pray in view of sacred symbols "alien to their faith," the Voice of America reported.

Just as the Imam was about to give the Muslim call to prayer, a middle-aged Christian woman, stood up, pointed to the cross and shouted "Jesus Christ died on that cross. He is the reason we are to worship only Him. Jesus Christ is our Lord and Savior. We have built enough of your mosques in this country. Why don't you worship in your mosques and leave our churches alone? ...America was founded on Christian principles...Leave our church alone!" She was quickly escorted out by security guards! She was being a witness for Christ. However, the intended message of peace, harmony and tolerance isn't so well received in Muslim countries, according to Christian leaders contacted by WND. Too many World leaders today fail to understand the Muslim mindset. Israeli leaders, who of all people ought to know better, still fall into the trap believing that the Western model of lasting peace between nation states can equally apply to the Middle East, between Muslim and non-Muslim nations. It is a fatal fallacy. God says that there can be no peace with the wicked.

Franklin Graham said "it's sad to see a church open its doors to the worship of anything other than the One True God of the Bible who sent His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, to earth to save us from our sins." Jesus was clear when He said, "I am the way the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me."

IsraelToday.com (11.20.14) by David Lazarus. "Muslims Chant to Remove Jesus at Washington's National Cathedral. It looked like a chilling scene from a Last Days, anti-

Christ-takes-over-the-world disaster movie. Hundreds of Muslims take over America's most notable church, prostrate on their prayer rugs as their unified chant echoes out in full volume: "There is only one god, he begets not and I bear witness that Muhammad is His only servant and Apostle."

Only this was not a movie. This was the scene, last Friday, for the first time in history, at the iconic National Cathedral in Washington, where orthodox Muslim clerics were invited to lead an Islamic prayer service. A congregation of hundreds was lead by an Imam in declaring that "god has no son, that Jesus Christ cannot be his son, and that there is no god like Allah." The Islamic service at the cathedral was ostensibly intended to promote interfaith dialogue. Its organizers said that they hoped the service would "help correct some Americans' misperceptions of Muslims as extremists and reinforce tolerance among faiths."

However, it is hard to understand how a Christian church opening its sanctuary for Islamic prayers that renounce Jesus Christ contributes to interfaith tolerance. Muslims would never allow a Christian to preach the Gospel in a mosque. Palestinian Muslims continue to ban all Jews and Christians from praying at the Temple Mount in Jerusalem. It would appear that "interfaith dialogue and tolerance" are just more code words calling for Muslims to rise up and conquer. The Washington Post reported that the Islamic prayer service was closed to the public because of security concerns. Armed guards checked every person and every bag of those in attendance. Islam is growing rapidly around the world, and is now the third-largest religion in the United States, behind Christianity and Judaism, with an estimated 2.6 million American Muslim citizens.

Joel Richardson, a Christian filmmaker and author of The Islamic Antichrist, said the hypocrisy of the Muslim world is "beyond words" when it comes to interfaith programs like the one held Friday at the National Cathedral. The Christians who host such events have made "tolerance" a god, he said. We as a Christian nation are called to love Muslims in our midst but that does not mean we allow ourselves to be subjugated in their presence. Not only would such a prayer service by Christians not be allowed in a mosque in Islam's home country, Saudi Arabia, he said, but Christians would not even be allowed to build a church there. Why don't they allow churches in Saudi Arabia? Because it is a sign of subjugation. The message being sent from Washington to Muslim countries around the world is not one of tolerance but one of subjugation. "Tolerance is a Christian virtue that can be counterproductive when taken to extremes. Tolerance has become the national idol of our time and our country to the point where issues such as freedom, liberty and really just rational thought have been subordinated on that great altar of tolerance. When we welcome in those that are foundationally opposed to who we are as a nation and our Constitution, we've literally become suicidal as a nation."

This is not the first time the National Cathedral has delved head first into controversial territory. In June, it celebrated "Gay Pride Month" by allowing a transgender priest to preach a sermon from its pulpit.

The date November 14, 2014 was no accident. "A 1915 Ottoman Fatwa [31] believed to have been written by Sheikh Shawish (entitled, Aljihad, and translated into English, March 10, 1915) included a statement attached to its official United States consulate translation indicating, 'It was undoubtedly this and similar pamphlets which inspired the Jewish community of Alexandria' to contact the United States Consul General's office in Cairo. The calls to religiously motivated violence against non-Muslims, as sanctioned by Islam—jihad war—are unmistakably clear.”

Exactly one hundred years earlier, to the day (11.14.14), Turkey's chete forces attacked the Armenian villages of Eizerum looting every house, killing many people and the local Christian Armenian priest. The Genocide started from the border districts and seacoasts, and worked inland to the most remote hamlets. Over 1.5 million Armenian Christians, including over 4,000 bishops and priests, were killed in this Genocide. On the eve of World War I, there were two million Christian Armenians in the declining Ottoman Empire. By 1922, there were fewer than 400,000. Other Christian minorities living in the empire, including ethnic Greeks and Assyrians — some 1.5 million — were killed in what historians consider a genocide. Rape and beating were commonplace. Those who were not killed at once were driven through mountains and deserts without food, drink or shelter.

www.AmericanThinker.com—In July 1908, reform-minded Turkish nationalists known as "Young Turks" forced the Sultan to allow a constitutional government and guarantee basic rights. The Young Turks were ambitious junior officers in the Turkish Army who hoped to halt their country's steady decline. Three of the Young Turks seized full control of the government via a coup in 1913 and came to wield dictatorial powers and concocted their own ambitious plans for the future of Turkey. They wanted to unite all of the Turkic peoples in the entire region while expanding the borders of Turkey eastward across the Caucasus all the way into Central Asia. This would create a new Turkish empire, a "great and eternal land" called Turan with one language and one religion. But there was a big problem. The traditional historic homeland of Armenia lay right in the path of their plans to expand eastward. And on that land was a large population of Christian Armenians totaling some two million persons, making up about 10 percent of Turkey's overall population. Along with the Young Turk's newfound "Turanism" there was a dramatic rise in Islamic fundamentalist agitation throughout Turkey.

There were big cultural differences between Armenians and Turks. The Armenians had always been one of the best educated communities within the old Turkish Empire. Armenians were the professionals in society, the businessmen, lawyers, doctors and skilled craftsmen. And they were more open to new scientific, political and social ideas from the West (Europe and America). By contrast, the majority of Turks were illiterate peasant farmers and small shop keepers. Leaders of the Ottoman Empire had traditionally placed little value on education and not a single institute of higher learning could be found within their old empire. “Christian Armenians were once again branded as infidels (non-believers in Islam). Anti-Armenian demonstrations were staged by young Islamic extremists, sometimes leading to violence. The Turkish government decided to eliminate the whole of the Christian population of Greeks, Armenians, Syrians and Nestorians.”

The government slogan, "Turkey for the Turks", served to encourage Turkish civilians on a policy of ethnic cleansing. As a prelude to the coming action, Turks disarmed the entire Armenian population under the pretext that the people were naturally sympathetic toward Christian Russia. Every last rifle and pistol was forcibly seized, with severe penalties for anyone who failed to turn in a weapon. Quite a few Armenian men actually purchased a weapon from local Turks or Kurds (nomadic Muslim tribesmen) at very high prices so they would have something to turn in. The Armenian Genocide began with the mass arrest, and ultimate murder, of religious, political and intellectual leaders in Constantinople and elsewhere in the empire. Then, in every Armenian community, a carefully planned Genocide unfolded: Arrest of clergy and other prominent persons, disarmament of the population and Armenian soldiers serving in the Ottoman army, segregation and public execution of leaders and able-bodied men, and the deportation to the deserts of the remaining Armenian women, children and elderly. Renowned historian Arnold Toynbee wrote that "the crime was concerted very systematically for there is evidence of identical procedure from over fifty places." To this day the Turkish government persists in its denials of the Armenian genocide. The Ottoman Turkish destruction of the Armenian people, beginning in the late 19th and intensifying in the early 20th century, was a genocide, and jihad ideology.

www.The Commonsense Show by David Hodges. "The G20 Just Stole Your Bank Account." The article discusses new rules that went into effect November 16, 2014. These new rules mean that your bank deposits are no longer backed by insurance. Your bank account has no protection. All nations belonging to the G20 will no longer recognize your deposits as money. "The bank deposits are just part of commercial banks' capital structure, and also that they are far from the most senior portion of that structure." Pay close attention America, this means that following a bank failure, "a bank deposit is no longer money in the way a banknote is." Russell Napier of Electronic Enterprise says that November 16 as 'the day that money died.' "bank deposits are just part of commercial banks' capital structure. This means that you and I as depositors will go to the end of the compensation line and could soon lose an entire life savings if it is in a bank." As of 11.12.14 your bank account is not really money and your bank account is no longer in your control. This reminds me of a film entitled "the Matrix" starring Keanu Reeves. It depicts a dystopian future in which reality as perceived by most humans is actually a simulated reality called "the Matrix", created by sentient machines to subdue the human population, while their bodies' heat and electrical activity are used as an energy source. Computer programmer "Neo" learns this truth and is drawn into a rebellion against the machines, which involves other people who have been freed from the "dream world."

nytimes.com (11.14.14) Telemundo and Cable news channels carried Obama's immigration speech, but Broadcast networks ABC, NBC, and CBS opted out—except for Univision President Obama's prime time address on immigration. The fifteen minute speech was aired by the cable news channels. "President Obama chose confrontation over conciliation on Thursday as he asserted the powers of the Oval Office to reshape the nation's immigration system and all but dared members of next year's Republican-controlled Congress to reverse his actions on behalf of millions of immigrants." He is doing exactly what he said he couldn't do according to talk show host Rush Limbaugh. "The president knows he is violating the U.S. Constitution and he is happy to do it, by the way." Megan Kelly on the Kelly Files on Fox News, showed multiple film clips where Obama says he is not an emperor and said he could not do what he has just done, but would have to go through Congress.

He has done an about face, saying he can, he will and he has done it by executive order. The centerpiece of the president's announcement is a new program for unauthorized immigrants who are the parents of United States citizens. About four million people will be eligible for a new legal status that would defer their deportations and allow them to work legally. They must pass background checks and pay taxes, but they will receive Social Security cards, officials said. An additional one million people will have some protection from deportation through other parts of the president's plan. Secure Communities program, a dragnet that swept up many unauthorized immigrants arrested on minor offenses like traffic violation and local police will no longer be asked routine to detain immigrants without Papers. NewsMax magazine quotes Utah Senator, Orin Hatch as saying, "Obama is coming off like a dictator forcing issues. It should unnerve every citizen that we have a president who in some respects is out of control."

Why is all this happening today? I received an article with the headline, "Obama's Mentor was a Satan worshipper." What does that make Obama? "Many of us now know, Saul Alinsky, a left wing guru of community organizers, was a Satan worshipper. He dedicated his book, Rules for Radicals to Lucifer. Lucifer is the fallen angel who rebelled against God, and his name was changed to Satan. In other words he dedicated his book to Satan the devil. He was quoted as saying that he so admired Satan that, "I would rather go to hell than heaven."

Lest we forget at least an over-the-shoulder acknowledgment to the very first radical: from all our legends, mythology, and history (and who is to know where mythology leaves off and history begins—or which is which), the first radical known to man who rebelled against the establishment and did it so effectively that he at least won his own kingdom —Lucifer.

—SAUL ALINSKY

The above is a copy of the dedication that Alinsky wrote in the front of his book, Rules for Radicals. Remember, Alinsky was a Satan worshipper and a mentor for Barack Obama.

Daniel 7:24—"The ten horns are ten kings. Who shall arise from this kingdom. And another shall rise after them. He shall be different from the first ones, and shall subdue three kings.

<sup>25</sup> He shall speak pompous words against the Most High, Shall persecute the saints of the Most High, and shall intend to change times and law. Then the saints shall be given for a time and times and half a time (3 ½ years).” It is interesting that Obama intends to change times and laws arbitrarily and unilaterally according to his own dictates. He is on the fast track. Daniel 8:23—“And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors have reached their fullness, a king shall arise, having fierce features, who understands sinister schemes.

into his hand

<sup>24</sup> His power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; He shall destroy fearfully, and shall prosper and thrive; He shall destroy the mighty, and also the holy people.

he shall cause deceit to prosper under his rule. And he shall exalt himself in his heart. He shall destroy many in their prosperity. He shall even rise against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without human means.” This is still talking about the little horn.

Daniel 11:36—“Then the king shall do according to his own will: he shall exalt and magnify himself above every god, shall speak blasphemies against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the wrath has been accomplished; for what has been determined shall be done. <sup>37</sup> He shall regard neither the God of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god; for he shall exalt himself above them all. <sup>38</sup> But in their place he shall honor a god of fortresses; and a god which his fathers did not know he shall honor with gold and silver, with precious stones and pleasant things. <sup>39</sup> Thus he shall act against the strongest fortresses with a foreign god, which he shall acknowledge, and advance its glory; and he shall cause them to rule over many, and divide the land for gain.” He will be a homosexual because he has no desire for women. He will endorse homosexuality and same sex marriage, and will exalt himself.

2 Thessalonians 2:3-12—“Let no one deceive you by any means; for that Day will not come unless the falling away comes first, and the man of sin is revealed, the son of perdition, <sup>4</sup> who opposes and exalts himself above all that is called God or that is worshiped, so that he sits as God in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God. <sup>6</sup> And now you know what is restraining, that he may be revealed in his own time. <sup>7</sup> For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work; only He who now restrains will do so until He is taken out of the way. <sup>8</sup> And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord will consume with the breath of His mouth and destroy with the brightness of His coming. <sup>9</sup> The coming of the lawless one is according to the working of Satan, with all power, signs, and lying wonders, <sup>10</sup> and with all unrighteous deception among those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved. <sup>11</sup> And for this reason God will send them strong delusion, that they should believe the lie, <sup>12</sup> that they all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness.”

America is becoming divided. The last time we have been this divided was 1864-1865 during the Civil War. Today it is black against white, Muslim against Christian, Communist infiltration in our government. Matthew 12:25—“But Jesus knew their thoughts, and said to them: ‘Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand.’ ” Our leaders are divided against themselves. The same lesson is repeated in Mark 3:23 –“So He called them to Himself and said to them in parables: ‘How can Satan cast out Satan? <sup>24</sup> If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. <sup>25</sup> And if a house is divided against itself, that house cannot stand. <sup>26</sup> And if Satan has risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but has an end. <sup>27</sup> No one can enter a strong man’s house and plunder his goods, unless he first binds the strong man. And then he will plunder his house.’ ”

Luke 11:17—Jesus knew their thoughts. But He, knowing their thoughts, said to them: “Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and a house divided against a house falls. <sup>18</sup> If Satan also is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand? Because you say I cast out demons by Beelzebub. <sup>19</sup> And if I cast out demons by Beelzebub, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges. <sup>20</sup> But if I cast out demons with the finger of God, surely the kingdom of God has come upon you. <sup>21</sup> When a strong man, fully armed, guards his own palace, his goods are in peace. <sup>22</sup> But when a stronger than he comes upon him and overcomes him, he takes from him all his armor in which he trusted, and divides his spoils. <sup>23</sup> He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters.”

We are seeing divisive cracks increasing, like opening cracks along a fault line. Trouble is brewing, the economy is very fragile and war is threatening in the Middle and the Far East. Proverbs 6:16 –19—“These six things the LORD hates, Yes, seven are an abomination to Him:

1.A proud look,            3.Hands that shed innocent blood    5.Feet that are swift in running to evil    2.A lying tongue,    4.A heart that devises wicked plans    6.A false witness who speaks lies, and
7.One who sows discord among brethren.”

Proverbs 6:20-23—“My son, keep your father’s command, And do not forsake the law of your mother. <sup>21</sup> Bind them continually upon your heart; And when you awake, they will speak with you. <sup>23</sup> For the commandment is a lamp, and the law a light; Reproofs of instruction are the way of life, Tie them around your neck. <sup>22</sup> When you roam, they will lead you; When you sleep, they will keep you.”

Revelation 13:1-9—“stood on the sand of the sea. And I saw a beast rising up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns and on his horns ten crowns, and on his heads a blasphemous name. <sup>2</sup> Now the beast which I saw was like a leopard, his feet were like the feet of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. The dragon gave him his power, his throne, and great authority. <sup>3</sup> And I saw one of his heads as if it had been mortally wounded, and his deadly wound was healed. And all the world marveled and followed the beast. <sup>4</sup> So they worshiped the dragon who gave authority to the beast; and they worshiped the beast, saying, ‘Who is like the beast? Who is able to make war with him?’ <sup>5</sup> And he was given a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies, and he was given authority to continue<sup>1</sup> for forty-two months. <sup>6</sup> Then he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme His name, His tabernacle, and those who dwell in heaven. <sup>7</sup> It was granted to him to make war with the saints and to overcome them. And authority was given him over every tribe, tongue, and nation. <sup>8</sup> All who dwell on the earth will worship him, whose names have not been written in the Book of Life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

<sup>9</sup> If anyone has an ear, let him hear. <sup>10</sup> He who leads into captivity shall go into captivity; he who kills with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.”

Ephesians 6:11, 13— “Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might. <sup>11</sup> Put on the whole armor of God that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. <sup>12</sup> For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places. Put on the whole armor of God that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. <sup>13</sup> Therefore take up the whole armor of God that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.”
